

Sample size required to detect the trend assuming no compositional variance

